

California Educational Theatre Association and California State University, East Bay
Present

A conference related professional growth class...

Awakening Diverse Voices

THEATRE 7521 for 1 or 2 units

October 16-18, 2008

CONCURRENT WITH THE CONFERENCE

at the Doubletree Hotel San Francisco Airport, Burlingame

For conference information and registration http://www.cetoweb.org/ceta_pages/ann_conf.html

Hotel reservations: (650) 344-5500

The Annual Conference and these classes are for Theatre Educators from Elementary, Middle and High Schools, and Colleges/Universities

Year after year the CETA Conference proves its benefit to California's theatre educators. Conference attendees examine the latest teaching issues, learn new pedagogy, and review the latest Sacramento politics. In recent years participants have learned how to deal with administrators, statewide funding, subject matter standards, assessment, and instructional methods, among many other issues. The conference is fun, too, providing countless free tickets and performances by professional, elementary, high school, and college performers.

Pre-conference programming begins October 16 with day-long Master Intensives providing separate credit opportunities. (Contact Gai Jones for Master Day credit.)

The conference itself includes: Intensive Workshops - Standard Workshops - Seminars - Vendors - Theatre - Guest Speakers - Papers - Networking. Course requires written reflection. Credit details below.

TO REGISTER FOR CLASS: Online, navigate to the Continuing Education Registration Form and print two copies. Fill out and bring the forms to the Conference Registration with payment. One will be your receipt. Or, just come to Conference Registration with payment and Professor Hird will supply Registration Forms. Make checks to CSUEB.

→ http://www.ce.csueastbay.edu/registration/forms/Template_RegForm.pdf

→ Course numbers:

THEA 7521- HA -- 1 unit, $175 Attend four workshops, the vendors, and one panel/speaker; complete Reflection Form or write a reflective paper. This class is appropriate for ONE DAY registrants (Friday or Saturday only).

THEA 7521- HB -- 2 units, $250 Attend six workshops over two days, the vendors, and two panels/speakers; complete the Reflection Form or write a reflective paper. (requires registration Friday AND Saturday)

(The Reflection Form includes four questions on two pages. Complete the form at the conference or e-mail within two weeks. You may substitute a three page paper on the conference theme and submit by e-mail within two weeks.)

Course is not listed online. For information e-mail: Tom Hird thomas.hird@csueastbay.edu